

City of Waterville Code of Ordinances

Working with the City Manager, the City Council is now engaged in a systematic review of the City's current Code of Ordinances, many of which are out-of-date. As new and revised ordinances are adopted by the City Council the obsolete ordinances which they replace are repealed. Although the ordinances listed below still appear in the Code of Ordinances maintained for the City by Municode they are no longer in effect. When the process of ordinance review and revision is complete the Code of Ordinances maintained by Municode will be removed from the City web site.
